

SECURITY and ACCESS CONTROL

You Should Not Have to Worry About Security and Access Control

Onepath delivers a seamless total security solution regardless of the scale or complexity of the application.

The Onepath solutions for security and access control offer cutting edge, state of the art hardware and software that deliver maximum protection, versatility, simple operation and cost efficiency. Whether a stand alone solution, or any number of our intelligent systems combined – Onepath incorporates the most advanced technologies available and has built a reputation as the region's leading security systems integrator on the promise of delivering the most innovative security and access control solutions for installations of any size.

Security and access control has changed drastically in the past decade. While the basic components of a security system - such as video surveillance, access control, intrusion detection and central monitoring - are not new, the growing functionality and integration of these various elements are what drive modern security specifications in today's world. The basic "keep out/let in" definition of security is now only the tip of the iceberg.

Through detailed event management platforms, security and access control systems have become integrated into the business infrastructure. At Onepath, we design, integrate and implement innovative and class-leading security and access control systems. Whether it's access control for one door or thousands; video surveillance or CCTV; intrusion detection and control; or identity management. Onepath is the security and access control system integrator that will help you implement the right solution to protect your property, occupants, and assets.

Overview of Onepath Security and Access Control Offerings

- Electronic Security (representatives for Lenel Systems International, Softwarehouse, and Impro)
- Access control system design, installation and maintenance
- Biometric technology including hand geometry, fingerprint, and even iris recognition
- Digital and analog video surveillance design, installation and maintenance
- IP security software deployment
- Intrusion detection
- Wireless and covert systems deployment
- HD camera design and deployment
- Video analytics design and capture
- Monitoring center

ONEPATH SYSTEMS, LLC

2053 Franklin Way

Marietta, Georgia 30067

TEL: 678 355 0555

WEB: <http://onepathsystems.com>